Delta Technology is a complete workflow solution with a built-in RIP system, the general approach to the temporal and spatial separation of the RIP and output process followed. The main advantages of Delta Technology, the production safety issue with delta specific lists based on the ROOM concept (Rip Once, Output Many) and the high productivity of the RIP / Server architecture. With Delta Technology can avoid bottlenecks in the prepress and output devices are continuously supplied with press-ready, error-free data. Delta Technology addresses prepress and printing companies with their own pre-press of all sizes. The modular design and its open architecture, Delta Technology to the individual needs are properly adjusted.
