* A System Builder (SB), Delivery Service Pack (DSP) or Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) version contains only the disk containing the full version of the appropriate software, but no free support from the manufacturer. In addition, you will not usually be shipped without a box and manual. But it offers - in terms of actual software - the same features as retail versions. Service Pack's, patches and updates from the Microsoft site are unrestricted. The software may be freely sold without hardware binding. This was the ruling of the Federal Court.
